Beit Bina Code of Conduct

Beit Bina is committed to providing students with quality Jewish Studies and Hebrew education. An essential part of the school's mission is to promote Jewish identity and Jewish values among its children. The school maintains an atmosphere of harmony, tolerance and ethical integrity. Students and their parents are required to maintain these values at Beit Bina.

It is the objective of the Beit Bina at Temple Israel to recognize, preserve and protect the individual rights of all students and to encourage and enforce these rights within the framework of an orderly and efficient school program. It is the duty of the school to prevent students' and/or parents' conduct that becomes dangerous, disruptive or destructive, and therefore endangers the function of Beit Bina.

It is the expectation that each student and his/her parents behave in a manner that does not threaten, interfere with or deprive others of their right to an education, and will accept responsibility for their behavior. An effective school environment must be safe and free from disruption.

Students and parents are expected to be familiar with the school's conduct policies and to willingly abide by them. If a student or parent fails to abide by the School's Code of Conduct it is the Religious School Committee's responsibility to review the case and respond appropriately, including the imposition of sanctions, if necessary. Serious violations could result in expulsion. If a student is expelled, there will be no refund of tuition or waiver of financial obligations.

We understand that grievances or disagreements may arise from time to time. We support the community's right to respectful dissent. Issues should be brought to the director's/education committee's attention so that conflicts can be addressed and resolved in a timely manner.

Student Code of Conduct

- Students may not use electronic devices such as iPods, CD players, or cell phones during school hours.
- Students may not leave school grounds without permission.
- Students must be respectful towards teachers, administration and the director.
- Students must practice honesty.
- Students must show respect for everyone at the school in both speech and manner.
- Students must respect personal space of others.
- Students must respect the diversity of the school community.
- Students must refrain from being disruptive in class.
- Students must respect the physical and psychological well-being of others.
- Students must not be engaged in any immoral, illegal or unethical activities that could have a detrimental effect on another student, Beit Bina, or the Temple community.

If it is determined that a prospective student will be unable to abide by the School's Code of Conduct the Religious School Committee may deny admission to the school.

Parent Responsibilities

- Parents are to make sure their child(ren) understand(s) the Code of Conduct and honors these values.
- Parents are asked to sign and turn in all registration, medical and other forms in a timely fashion.
- Parents are to insure their child arrives to school on time and leaves at the designated time.
